

PRIVACY POLICY

Rosetta Resources Inc., either directly or through one of its affiliates or subsidiaries (collectively, “Rosetta”), from time to time, requests personal information from individuals with whom it conducts business, including, without limitation, such individual’s social security number and/or tax identification number (“Personal Information”). Rosetta is committed to maintaining the confidentiality, integrity and security of Personal Information.

You do not have to contact us to benefit from Rosetta’s privacy protections; they apply automatically to all individuals providing Personal Information to Rosetta.

How Personal Information is Collected and Used

Rosetta gets most Personal Information directly from you or your representative. Rosetta may collect public and non-public Personal Information about you from any of the following sources:

- Division orders, leases, inquiries, public records and other documents submitted by an individual or their representative or gathered by Rosetta in the course of managing ownership interests and revenue distributions associated with an oil and gas property; or
- Other interactions with Rosetta (for example, discussions with our owner relations staff).

Individuals receiving payments from Rosetta are assigned unique internal identification numbers that are not associated with an individual’s Personal Information. However, the collection of Personal Information is necessary for Rosetta to fulfill certain legal and regulatory requirements including, without limitation, its obligation to report payments made to individuals to the Internal Revenue Service and other taxing authorities. You should be aware that Rosetta will use and provide such Personal Information to governmental agencies, including the Internal Revenue Service, when filing Form 1099 for payments such as revenue distributions.

How Personal Information is Protected and Who Has Access to Personal Information

Rosetta has physical, electronic and procedural safeguards in place to prevent the loss, misuse, or alteration of Personal Information under our control. Within Rosetta and among our service providers, we restrict access to Personal Information to those individuals within Rosetta who require access to manage ownership records and payments made by Rosetta to individuals. Our staff is required to protect the confidentiality of Personal Information and to comply with Rosetta’s established privacy policies. They may access Personal Information only when there is an appropriate reason to do so. Individuals who violate our Privacy Policy are subject to Rosetta’s disciplinary process.

How Personal Information is Disposed

Rosetta may share Personal Information that we collect with the following entities:

- Affiliates or subsidiary companies to Rosetta Resources Inc.;
- Certain service providers (for example, data processing, contractor safety verification and printing companies) solely for the purpose of providing services to Rosetta;
- Governmental agencies, other regulatory bodies and law enforcement officials (for example, for tax purposes or for reporting suspicious transactions);
- Other persons and organizations, with the consent of the individual providing the Personal Information or as directed by such individual's representative; or
- Other persons and organizations, as permitted by law (for example, for fraud prevention, subpoena or litigation).

Without your consent, Rosetta will not make disclosures of Personal Information to other companies who may want to sell their products and services (for example, Rosetta does not sell customer lists and will not sell your name to a catalog company or telemarketer). Personal Information will be disposed of by shredding, erasure, or other methods in accordance with Rosetta's Records Management Policy.

To Whom This Policy Applies

This Privacy Policy applies to individuals providing Personal Information to Rosetta in order to receive revenue distributions or other payments from Rosetta associated with ownership interests that such an individual may have in oil and gas leases or properties or to receive payments for services provided on behalf of, or to, Rosetta.

Even if you no longer receive revenue distributions or payments from Rosetta or no longer do business with Rosetta, Rosetta's Privacy Policy will apply to you.

Further Information

Rosetta reserves the right from time to time to change this Privacy Policy. The examples contained in this Privacy Policy are illustrations and they are not intended to be exclusive. If this Privacy Policy conflicts with a contract with an individual providing Personal Information or provision of law, such contract or law shall supersede and control over this policy.
